In recent news, the Law Offices of Kevin Cortright, based in Murrieta, CA, announced that they had been included in the inlandempirelawyers.com directory. Since then, the firm now reports that this inclusion has successfully supplemented new client leads. These originate specifically from the Temecula area. The Temecula attorney looks forward to hearing from more prospective clients.

Kevin Cortright himself says: "Getting listed on Inland Empire Lawyers was a great idea. It gave us the opportunity to expand our geographical reach and show people what we are all about. Most importantly, it has enabled us to ensure that more people are able to get the legal representation they require, specifically in the Temecula area."

The Law Offices of Kevin Cortright focus on a number of areas of law, including workers' compensation, bankruptcy, and personal injury. They treat each case as a unique one, dedicating themselves to the legal needs of each specific client. Kevin Cortright manages every aspect of his clients' legal cases personally, regardless of what the issue is.

The law firm has won a number of impressive cases, as well as having received numerous awards for the work that they have done. In so doing, they have also been able to build a positive reputation among their clients, something that has been greatly enhanced since being listed on the Inland Empire Lawyers site. "Kevin is just the right balance of personal and professional," says Colton on AVVO. "I came to him in a time of serious legal need and he showed great poise and competence in how to handle my situation. I found I was able to be more than confident in his ability. But what I also appreciated was that he is not just a cold professional, but shows a genuine care for people and seeks to understand their situation. I felt not only that I was in good hands, but good company as well. I would hire Kevin again in the future."

The Temecula lawyer believes nobody should have to suffer financially or legally as a result of accidents or other life situations. He encourages everyone to contact him as soon as possible for a no obligation consultation.
