

RVInsurance.com Launches New Destination Website Specifically for RV Owners

July 08, 2016

July 08, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

RVInsurance.com (www.rvinsurance.com) has launched a newly designed website specifically for RVers; this website offers specialty RV insurance features & industry resources that center around the RV lifestyle.

Website Functionality

With the newly designed user interface of RVInsurance.com comes enhanced functionality; the first thing users will notice is the attention to detail that was paid to the overall user experience, including an easy online quoting system, mobile & tablet optimization, and the website's sleek, modern look. Secondly, RVInsurance.com has integrated additional ways to lower premiums with the ability to bundle RV, auto & home policies together under one insurance agency.

Powered by National General Insurance

RVInsurance.com is powered by National General Insurance. This alignment will allow RVInsurance.com to provide more extensive insurance coverage as well as provide superior RV insurance coverage. Also, being powered by National General Insurance gives RVInsurance.com the ability to Access A+ Rated Insurance Carriers like National General, Progressive, Foremost, Safeco and many more. This means that RVInsurance.com can get the best rate for each situation, regardless of the rig. They cover all motorhomes types including classes A, B & C. They have coverage for trailers, including travel trailers, 5th wheels & Airstreams. Camper coverage is also available for Pop Up campers & truck campers. Insurance for unique RV types like Toy Haulers & Horse Trailers is also available.

There is also the ability to quote multiple types of insurance like RV, auto, home, renters? & motorcycle insurance. By bundling multiple lines of insurance, customers have the ability to lower their premiums significantly. RVers can also feel secure trusting a business with a 97% overall satisfactory rating, & roots going back to 1939. View their reviews at RVInsurance.com's Review Page.

RV Speciality Insurance Agency

Being backed by National General Insurance gives RVInsurance.com access to insight from an RV industry leader who wrote over 36,000 RV insurance policies in 2015, saving customers $335 per year, on average, for those who switched. This is due in large part to the specialized features provided by National General Insurance that consists of replacement cost coverage, RV storage options to help lower policy premium for the months your RV is stored and not in use, Permanent Attachment Coverage that replaces your permanent attachments at their purchase cost instead of the depreciated value, Full-Timer coverage that protects those who live in their RV full time (similar to homeowners coverage), And other great features like diminishing deductibles, pet injury coverage & multi-vehicle discount; just to name a few.

Industry Education Resource

RVInsurance.com is now much more than an insurance agency website; it is also a resource for full-time and novice RVers alike. The website now features blogs written by full-time RVers ranging from topics like How to Make Money While Living the RV Lifestyle, Choosing a Domicile State & Tips for Keeping Things Organized on the Road.

RVInsurance.com is powered by National General Insurance which has been serving the unique insurance needs of RV owners since 1939. National General Insurance recently added the ability to quote multiple lines of insurance including home, auto, motorcycle & renters? insurance. National General Insurance is a trade name utilized by the insurance underwriting companies in the National General Insurance Group and RV, auto home and motorcycle insurance policies purchased through RVInsurance.com may be issued by one of the insurance underwriting companies of the National General Insurance Group.
