

Murrieta Attorney Reports Traffic Growth For Website

August 16, 2016

August 16, 2016 -
Murrieta, California Attorney Kevin Cortright announced recently that his newly implemented website continues to increase in traffic, prompting more in-office consultations and client representation. The attorney says that the new website was implemented just four months ago, and has grown in traffic since then.

"We certainly are in the digital age," says Atty. Cortright. "People want convenience and websites, particularly those who have mobile gadgets."

Cortright states that key features of the website include valuable information provided for personal injury, workers compensation, and bankruptcy clients. The Murrieta attorney states that these are the main things that clients are looking for when they contact his firm and are likely why the website has gained such popularity over the months.

The website features a video center, which is another thing that Cortright says has helped its popularity. This features various videos with the attorney interviewing and speaking about a wide range of topics. In addition, visitors to the site will find testimonials and various other points of interest.

"Our goal is designing the site was to provide as much information as we could to visitors and potential clients," says Cortright. "We want everyone to have the information at their fingertips to help them determine if our services are what they need."

Cortright says that the overall design of the site as well as the kind of information that it provides is what keeps bringing potential clients back. This is why the firm's traffic has increased significantly over the past few months.

Kevin Cortright is an attorney providing personal injury, workers compensation, and bankruptcy representation. He is the sole attorney at the firm, a fact that he says helps clients feel they are getting the one on one attention that they deserve. He is the only lawyer in the firm who meets with clients and the only one who handles cases. He offers a range of informative articles, videos, and other information on the new website.

Those who are interested in scheduling a consultation with the Murrieta attorney can visit him on his new website where contact information and a live chat feature can be found.
