September 26, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Rip Toned Fitness is a Canadian based top seller of lifting and fitness gear on the Amazon marketplace. The company has recently announced they are now offering their fitness gear on Amazon UK as well as the United States counterpart. In addition to fitness and lifting gear, the company is a provider of relevant free content on the web that is designed to help those who strive for overall fitness.

Mark Pasay with Rip Toned Fitness says, "Our goal is always 100 percent customer satisfaction, and we ensure all of our customers are happy with our products, information, and services. We wouldn't have it any other way."

The company states offering their products in the UK counterpart of Amazon.com is just one more way they can help fitness enthusiasts to get and stay in shape. They provide a wide range of products such as their popular wrist wraps that are designed to help users stabilize their wrists when lifting, which can in turn help them maximize their workout potential and to help eliminate risks and injuries.

"You don't just lift," says Pasay. "You have to be careful so that you can ensure you are fully protecting yourself against tears and sprains, which is where our fitness products come in."

Pasay says many customers have requested the fitness products to be available on Amazon UK, and the company felt compelled to comply with those requests. He states their number one goal is and always has been to ensure customers are satisfied.

In addition to their products, the company also offers various tutorials and other information for free to fitness enthusiasts to help them with their goals and to ensure they are safely and effectively lifting and working out. Pasay that this additional service is something the company provides as a free service because they want to ensure everybody will enjoy being fit while minimizing the risk of injury.

More about the company can be seen on their Amazon seller's page. Those in the United Kingdom who are interested in learning more can also now see full company information on Amazon.
