October 21, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

BSW Roofing and Solar of Bakersfield, California, has announced that they will have a display at the upcoming 24th Annual Bakersfield Home Show. The company recently stated that they would like to invite Bakersfield residents to visit them at the local Home Show.

The Home Show highlights local home service business and allows them to have booths to show the public. Homeowners will be able to meet professionals that they can trust, many of whom have been part of the show for more than 20 years. The aim of the Home Show is to provide homeowners with a wealth of information and service companies, and to put all of it in one place. BWS Roofing and Solar will be displaying a variety of their solar Bakersfield products.

"It will be a good day for homeowners and for businesses," says Ernie Montoya with BSW Roofing and Solar. "Our aim is to show area residents the benefits of solar energy and how we can help them to save money and to bring their homes into this new technological age."

The Bakersfield solar installer says that they hope homeowners in the area will stop in and allow them to provide more information about their solar services and how those services can help them.

"Solar is a good way to go for a number of reasons," says Montoya. "Our goal is to educate homeowners from the area and answer any questions that they may have about solar energy and how it can be incorporated into any home."

BSW Roofing and Solar is a SolarWorld Authorized Installer. They are among a select group of companies awarded this honor, and Montoya states that their entire installation team has undergone specific training to ensure that they can properly and professionally handle all installations. The company states that their SolarWorld installations are guaranteed to withstand many years of use as well as harsh weather conditions, and are designed to be as functional as they are aesthetically pleasing.

To learn more about solar power Bakersfield residents can visit the company on their official website or plan to attend the 24th annual Home Show where the company will be displaying its products.
