

Newly Released Video Helps Women Compare Medicare Part D Plans In NC

December 19, 2016

Medicare For Her, a company based in Cornelius, North Carolina, has recently announced the release of a new video episode of their regular show that is aimed at providing information to women regarding Medicare. The newest video is now available on YouTube at https://youtu.be/vSSH-U_pMCA, and outlines things that women should consider when choosing a Medicare Part D plan.

Tripp Jordan, founder of Medicare For Her, says, "Women need to know that not all plans are alike. Our goal is to help you choose the right plan for your coverage and your budgeting needs."

Jordan states that while there are a number of factors to choosing Medicare and supplemental coverage, it can be an easy decision provided consumers have all of the information they need to make an informed choice. He states that his company's video episodes are designed to answer questions that women may have about Medicare Part D, as well as other coverage plans, and to help guide them to choosing the right plan.

"Medicare Part D is also known as the prescription drug plan," Jordan says. "It covers prescription medications or helps to offset the costs of those medications. Choosing a plan should depend on several factors including how often you are prescribed medications and which specific plan offers the coverage and cost you want."

The company, has also made available the newly released video at <http://www.medicareforher.com/part-d-prescription-drug-plans/>. Medicare for Her works with clients helping them to determine their coverage needs and helping them to choose a Medicare plan that they can easily afford. Jordan says that it is important for women to note that not all plans cover all medical costs, which is why he releases regular video episodes, to keep them informed about the pitfalls of choosing the wrong plan.

Jordan is considered to be an industry expert with a number of high profile news affiliates including Fox News, CBS, NBC, and ABC. He is a nationally recognized advisor for Medicare and known as the top Medicare agent for women throughout the nation, teaching them more about their rights regarding health care and how women can ensure that their medical costs are paid for, without losing any out of pocket money. More on Jordan and his company can be seen on the official Medicare For Her Facebook page, which can be accessed at <https://www.facebook.com/medicareforher>.
