February 27, 2017

Assisting Hands, a home healthcare company in Houston, TX, is a nationally renowned company that aims to have the expertise that goes above and beyond the normal services offered by other home health care companies. They are proud to announce that all their home care assistants are not just certified in their work, they have also been background checked on a national level. They point out that this is a testament of their dedication to quality, as the law requires only state background checks.

Terri Robbins, co-founder of Assisting Hands, says: "It is for good reason that we are the #1 elder care company in Houston. In fact, we dare say that we are the best in the nation. The safety of our clients is our greatest concern, which is why we run extensive background checks on each of our staff members, as well as making sure they are properly trained and certified to do their job."

The company would like to point out that there are numerous proven benefits to receiving home health care instead of assisted living. The most obvious benefit is that people can remain in their own home, which is more dignified for them, enabling them to retain their independence. At the same time, there is a significant financial benefit, both for individuals and for society as a whole. Those who want to know more can check out the company's Facebook page.

"We want to make sure that people feel comfortable leaving their loved ones in the comfort of their own home," adds Terri Robbins. "We do this by caring for them in a professional manner. We do not see our clients as clients, but rather as members of our own family, and we treat them as such."

Those who have used the services of Assisting Hands have been very grateful for the services they have received. "Thank you for all you do for the elderly in Houston and beyond," says one customer on the company's Facebook page. In fact, Assisting Hands has received consistent five star reviews.

Robbins adds: "If you are wondering 'is there assisted living near me', we ask you to consider home health care instead. Please contact us so we can show you what the tremendous benefits are."
