Dr. Miinala Marketing, a digital marketing agency in Mercer, PA, has announced that they now offer a free report for interior designers. This report provides those who are in the interior design business a snapshot of their current status when it comes to their online reputation. All they need to do is fill out an easy online form on the company website after which a detailed analysis of the business' online reputation is provided.

Dr. Miinala explains: "We provide an online reputation management system that is designed to help interior designers in their quest to get more clients. The problem today with most people being online is that unsatisfied clients can easily post their complaints online and others are likely to find such posts. Just imagine if those who have seen those negative reviews about your business are looking for an interior designer and they see your name or your company name on the list, they will likely ignore you because of what they have read about you."

As shown on her LinkedIn business page, Dr. Miinala has substantial experience with regards to online reputation management. She also has a team, who have a good reputation when it comes to online marketing. True to their system, they have maintained an excellent reputation when it comes to customer service through postings on hundreds of marketing sites. With this, Dr. Miinala Marketing is always striving to keep its reputation excellent when it comes to consulting and professional services for online marketing.

Those who are in the business of interior design are encouraged to take a look at her website in order to obtain the snapshot report. This report will allow them to gauge their current reputation so that they know how much work needs to be done to have a good reputation.

The company is encouraging interior designers to like their Facebook page. Dr. Miinala points out: "You may want to check out our Facebook page and get up-to-date news on what is happening with regards to our company and, in general, the issue of online reputation. This will also allow you to see what our past clients have to say about the services that they have received from us."
