Rip Toned Fitness is a company in Las Vegas, NV, that has been developing various fitness tools for the past few years. These tools, including wrist straps and lifting straps, have proven to be incredibly popular, receiving #1 spots in various independent fitness reviews. They are now proud to announce that their lifting belt, which is one of the most popular in this country, is now available in France through the Amazon marketplace.

"We want to make sure that people all over the world can enjoy greater fitness and overall health," says spokesperson for Rip Toned Fitness, Mark Pasay. "This is why we have decided to offer our various fitness tools to markets in Europe, including Germany, the United Kingdom, and now France. We're very happy to see that they are being well-received there."

Rip Toned Fitness is a best seller on Amazon for their lifting belt. It is hailed for its quality and usefulness, and equally for its fantastic value for money. Furthermore, the company also provides web content and video tutorials. In so doing, they ensure that people can get the most out of their workout. In one video tutorial, the company demonstrates how to use the lifting belt for the greatest effects.

Those who have used the lifting straps in the past have been highly enthusiastic about their overall experience. Craig, for instance, says on the company's website: "Got these lifting straps by Rip Toned for Christmas. The first day I used them I was able to lift much more weight and complete many more sets than normal. I should have bought these years ago. The customer service from Rip Toned is excellent and the guarantee is unbeatable. I love them and I highly recommend them."

The lifting belt is currently available on Amazon.fr. It comes with a free eBook to demonstrate how the product should be used and, as is the case with all Rip Toned Fitness products, it is backed by a lifetime guarantee. Pasay says: "We believe in the quality of the products that we make and we guarantee this with full confidence, which goes for everything we deliver to the market."
