September 19, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

AUCKLAND, NZ -- A new carpet cleaning service has arrived on the North Shore of Auckland, NZ. Go Green Carpet Cleaning is a new company which offers cleaning services for carpets, rugs, and upholstery. What makes Go Green different is that they specialise in only using environmentally-friendly cleaning agents, and techniques to clean carpets, rugs, and upholstery on the North Shore in Auckland.

While Go Green Carpet Cleaning is a new company, its owners, Andy Rolston and Brett Burton, are actually very experienced carpet cleaning professionals. They previously operated the Big Green Carpet Cleaning company but the operating licence expired. Given the success they had achieved, they decided to use their extensive experience in running a successful eco-friendly carpet cleaner, and started a new company.

Andy Rolston said, "I am looking forward to the opportunity to establish another successful carpet cleaning company in the North Shore area of Auckland. It is a business we know well, and we are well-known in the area from our previous carpet cleaning company. We have many repeat customers which must say something about the standard of work we deliver."

He went on to say that one of their core principles is to, "create healthy living and working environments through improving the cleanliness of flooring. This is why we use eco-friendly cleaning methods."

Go Green Carpet Cleaning has a strong track record in both domestic, and commercial carpet cleaning. This can be for removing spot stains, a general clean to brighten up one's carpet, or even an end of tenancy carpet cleaning service so tenants can get their bond back from their landlord.

‘End of tenancy carpet cleaning on the North Shore is an increasingly important part of our business,’ said Andy. ‘With more people renting these days, having the carpets cleaned when you vacate is usually part of the tenancy agreement you sign at the beginning.’

The Go Green Carpet Cleaning team has worked with people, and organisations in various industries, and for many different carpet cleaning situations. These include cleaning food stains like curry sauce, removing pet odours, or simply a general refresh of the carpets in a single room, or throughout the whole house.

Those who live or work on the North Shore of Auckland, and want to have their carpets cleaned, and are looking for North Shore carpet cleaners, can contact the Go Green Carpet Cleaning company.
