September 26, 2017 -
Las Vegas, NV company Rip Toned Fitness is a well-known company in this country, having developed numerous fitness products that have become best selling items. In fact, many of their products have received a #1 ranking from a variety of independent fitness experts. The company is now in the process of making their items available on international markets as well, which is why they are proud to announce that their popular Rip Toned knee sleeves are now also available in Spain.

Spokesperson for Rip Toned Fitness, Mark Pasay, explains: "People in Spain have the same fitness goals and aspirations as people in this country and we want to make sure that they can be just as successful. Hence, after the success of our knee sleeves in this country, we have decided to offer them in Spain and other European countries as well."

Rip Toned Fitness has developed a number of other highly popular fitness products as well, and they are in the process of launching those in Spain and on other markets. They have also made their web content and how-to video tutorials accessible to people all over the world. This information is free to access and provides people with more information on how to correctly use the items and well as get the most out of their workout.

Although the knee sleeves have only recently been made available in Spain, they have already received a number of positive reviews. Mark Pasay adds: "It seems our reputation has preceded us, because the knee sleeves started flying off the shelves almost as soon as they were released. We have also introduced a number of other products on the Spanish market, including our wrist wraps, lifting straps, and lifting belt, and we're happy to see that they are becoming popular very quickly as well."

All the Rip Toned Fitness products that have been released on the Spanish market are available through Amazon.es. It is expected that more products will be added to that listing very soon. As in this country, all Rip Toned Fitness products are backed by a lifetime warranty. Pasay points out: "We believe 100% in our products."
