

Ashley Bridget Introduces New Charm Bracelets In Time For The Holiday Season

December 06, 2017

December 06, 2017 -
Ashley Bridget, a business in Fort Lauderdale, FL, has announced that they have launched a new line of holiday charm bracelets. The bracelets have been made available on Amazon, where they rapidly received a wealth of positive reviews. In fact, within a short time of launching, the item has become a best selling item.

Scott Hutchison from Ashley Bridget says: "The holiday season is upon us, and we believe that there is no better way to share your love for someone else, or yourself for that matter, than with our elegantly designed charm bracelet. This particular bangle bracelet features guardian angel wings, which is a great way to remind you of the people around you who have passed away, but who are still looking after you from beyond."

The company is known for its variety of inspirational charm bracelets. They have previously released other bracelets as well, which their customers have been very appreciative of. In fact, the majority of people who have purchased the new bracelet for the holidays, have done so because they purchased others before and now either want to treat themselves, or a loved one. "I love this bracelet, I have already given away two of them to friends who love them also! I keep them on hand for a special last minute gift...," says an Amazon customer.

There are currently four different bracelets within the Ashley Bridget collection. Scott Hutchison adds: "These charm bracelets are said to be the stocking filler of 2017, with lots of young girls in particular wanting them as a fashion item. We have four different options to choose from, and we're very happy to see so many people have collected them all."

The four kinds of charms offered by Ashley Bridget are the guardian, divine, heavenly, and faith bracelets. Each can have a special meaning for certain situations, holding a memory or a quote that inspires people to be the best they can be. With the holiday season being a period of time in which such messages are of particular importance and significance, it is no surprise that they are flying off the shelves.
