

Beagle Gazette Shows Online Videos For Dog And Puppy

April 17, 2018

Beagle Gazette, an online community built by beagle lovers, is showing beagles in ways that many pet owners have never seen before through a variety of online videos. The site offers a look into the lives of these pets, providing entertaining images and clips of curious dogs playing, hunting, and even howling. This information and more can all be found online at www.beaglegazette.com.

The company has said the following regarding their videos and other information which is shared online: "To say simply "We Love Beagles" would be a serious understatement. This passion for Beagles has been with the staff at beaglegazette.com for a very long time and it will hopefully shine through in the articles and content we produce here on the site. We have a staff of people who are dedicated to bringing you more than a recap of the latest headlines. We want to show you that beaglegazette.com is multifaceted and truly has a life all its own."

Along with this freely accessible online community for beagle puppy lovers, Beagle Gazette also offers a link to videos and unique articles through their social media account. The company's Facebook account already holds more than 6,000 likes, and not only supplies the same funny and uplifting beagle videos as the website, but also includes a number of tips and training tricks for owners.

Those who enjoy the Beagle Gazette videos on the company website can stay up to date on all of the new articles, photos, and videos by subscribing to the company's mailing list. An easy to complete contact form also makes communication between subscribers and the Gazette possible, with another section provided entirely for visitor comments to the site.

Beagle lovers are encouraged to contact the company in the event of having their own information and videos regarding these particular pups to share. The company has made it clear that they wish to continue bringing new and unique beagle material to viewers and are currently accepting curators who can offer additional content which may contribute to the growth of the site.
