July 01, 2015

Affordable Craftsmen, a company based out of Marietta, GA, has announced that they are now offering their services to surrounding regions beyond Marietta, GA. The Georgia State Licensed Contractor team is offering their services to anybody who may require them within the Kennesaw, Norcross, Alpharetta, Sandy Springs, or Woodstock area, as well as many more. All of the townships that Affordable craftsman serve can be seen on their company website. The site also includes an informative video, which better explains the company initiative and helps to display just how seriously they take customer service. They explain: "Some of us want to recycle, remodeling our home into something better...something more usable and more to our liking. That is our heart here at Affordable Craftsmen Home Remodeling. We would love to be a part of your Atlanta home remodeling project, to help you preserve what is good from the past & use it as a foundation for building something even better."

The company is best known for their high quality home remodeling Marietta GA, however, they also offer services for master bedroom additions, attic builds, basement remodeling, and other home improvements. They have suggested that there is no job too large or too small when it comes to serving their clients. From tile installation to hardwood flooring or gazebo repair, pricing is both fixed and hourly depending on the task. The company has said the following regarding bathroom renovations and repairs in particular: "We have extensive bathroom remodeling contractor experience, having refinished thousands of bathrooms. If your bathroom is too small, outdated or simply not luxurious enough, let us help you to design and build your perfect bathroom remodel. We can guide your bathroom renovation options and transform your bathroom into a tranquil retreat."

Another area the company tends to focus on often is basement remodeling Marietta GA, which is something that Affordable Contractors has suggested needs improvements in many of the homes within the state. Due to the historic nature of many houses in the South, basements can reportedly contain the need for repair and updating. This is something that the team at Affordable Contractors takes seriously and enjoys working through. As with any other job taken on, they promise that prices for this work are fair and affordable. The company states: "We know as your family grows, lifestyle changes or you start working more from your home, that remodeling your home is a great way to make those changes without having to move, say goodbye to neighbors, school systems or the community you've become a part of. Better to take on an Atlanta home remodeling project, than to have to relocate your life."

For home improvement tips, and interesting articles, videos, and photos from Affordable Contractors, the company invites all home and business owners to follow them on social media through Facebook. This is also reportedly a great location for new customers to read reviews left by past clients, before deciding if the company is the right contractors for them. More of the details concerning prices, customization on jobs, and contact information are located on the main website.
