

Thomson Movers El Paso Announces New Moving Services

November 06, 2018

Thomson Movers El Paso has announced that they are adding more moving services for their customers. The company recently announced that new services including long distance moving and moving management will be added in order to help more people with their moving needs.

Chris LUGURAD, a representative for the moving company says, "We want you to have all of the services that you need for your relocation, whether you are moving across town or across the country. Your move will be so much easier if you have all of those services in one place."

LUGURAD says that a list of all of the company's moving services can be seen on their official website at <http://www.thomsonmoving.com/movers-el-paso-tx/>. He says that their new moving management services are going to make it much easier for busy households to ensure that everything is done prior to the move, during the relocation and after they have arrived at their new destination. He states that these new services include packing and unpacking.

"If you are busy, really busy, then you may simply not have time to ensure that all of your things are packed up and ready to go," says LUGURAD. "We can help. We have professional movers who are experienced in packing. Your belongings will be packed safely and securely and once we arrive at your new home, we will unpack those items for you as well. So, if you have work or other things to tend to, your home still gets moved based on your schedule but you don't have to do any of the work."

LUGURAD says that the company is structured to provide customers with everything that they need for a stress free and successful move. He states that they have decades of experience and hire only qualified, friendly and competent movers to ensure that each job is handled smoothly and to the complete satisfaction of their customers. The company Twitter page, found at <https://twitter.com/Thomsonmovers>, offers more information about their new services and allows customers to stay up to date with company news, promotions and other information.

Thomson Movers El Paso is a full service moving company with a relocation team that arrives at the home or office equipped with everything that they need to get the customer from point A to point B. LUGURAD says that they can provide boxes, tape, and other packing and moving materials and have the fleet of trucks available to move homes or offices of any size. He says that they recently implemented moving teams that specialize in corporate needs to provide businesses with the moving services that they need, as well. Thomson Movers El Paso is a Texas based family owned and operated business that has been providing residential and corporate relocation services for more than 10 years. The company states that they take pride in offering their customers the very best in quality moving services. LUGURAD says that these new services are designed to make moving even easier than it was before by providing everything that customers need, right down to boxes and scheduling. The company states that their moving management services are available for those who are too busy to plan and implement their move or anyone who wants the moving process to go a bit easier from start to finish.

Lugurad says that with more than a decade of experience, the company has put together a workforce of experienced and qualified movers, packers, schedulers, drivers, and loaders. He says that they have storage experts available, as well to provide high quality services to customers. He says that by hiring only the most professional, friendly and experienced movers, the company can assure customers that their relocation will go off without a hitch.

Thomson Movers El Paso says that their main goal is to exceed the expectations of their customers when it comes to their moving needs. The company states that they offer customized moving services to meet the unique needs of their customers and says that they can move customers into and out of apartments, houses, condominiums, offices, warehouses and more. Lugurad says that the combination of their years of experience, their friendly and qualified staff and the range of moving services that they offer is what has made them the number one choice of many for their residential and commercial moves over the years. He says that anyone who has questions or who would like to learn more about their newly offered services can visit them on their official website.
