

The Texas Mortgage Pros Opens New San Antonio Location

February 07, 2019

The Texas Mortgage Pros has announced a new location opening in San Antonio, Texas. The company also announced a new partnership with Prodigy Lending, a financial institution in Texas.

Jason Turner, a representative for the financial company says, “We are thrilled to now be offering services to clients in the San Antonio area. Our goal is to assist clients in finding the resources and financial tools that make their home buying decision a positive one. We work with clients on a one-on-one basis, ensuring that each individual need is addressed and met.”

Turner states that the company works with a number of government programs as well in helping clients to purchase the home of their dreams. He says that their new San Antonio location will enable them to reach out and assist a number of new clients who would normally have gone to other cities in order to find assistance with their home buying decision.

Turner says that those in need of home loans San Antonio can contact the company directly to inquire about a consultation. He says that during the initial consultation, a complete list of client needs are addressed and the company helps to find the right resources and financial solutions to meet the individual needs of the client.

“We don’t believe that everyone is the same,” says Turner. “We fully understand that not everyone is going to go after the same program or financial solution. This is why we work with clients on a personalized basis. We take into account the specific needs and desires of each client and help them to find a solution that is custom tailored to meet those needs.”

Turner says that the housing market in San Antonio is saturated with homes that appeal to a variety of personal preferences, budgets and locations. He states that clients who are planning to relocate to the area may not know of the resources that are available in San Antonio and states that he and his team are proud to offer more information about these resources from their new location. He adds that the company works with a number of partners in finding the right solution for individual clients and that they offer a full range of options with regards to finding and purchasing a new home.

The San Antonio mortgage broker states that anyone who has questions about the housing market or in finding a solution for their home needs can contact the company and schedule a consultation. Turner states that they use this time to get to know their clients, with the hopes of building a trusting and lasting relationship with each one.

The company has also recently expanded their service area to include Dallas and a variety of other areas in Texas, and states that their goal is to simply assist consumers with their dream of owning their own home. Turner says that the process of funding a new home can be daunting, particularly for those who have never gone through it. He states that the company's goal is to assist people with finding the right solution for their needs and helping them to get through this often complicated process.

Turner states that while there are a number of larger companies that offer these same services, his company prides itself on providing more of a personal relationship with their clients. Those in San Antonio or the surrounding areas who are in the process of buying a home can contact the company to schedule a consultation. Turner says that their new location in San Antonio will enable them to help those in the city and in the outlying areas to find the resources and financial solutions that will help them to realize their dreams of being homeowners. More on the company and the services that they provide, as well as their list of specific service areas in Texas can be seen on their official website. Those interested can also contact the company directly to learn more.

Source: <http://www.pressadvantage.com/story/25196-the-texas-mortgage-pros-opens-new-san-antonio-location>