

The Texas Mortgage Pros Has A New Location In El Paso

February 07, 2019

The Texas Mortgage Pros has announced the opening of a new location in El Paso, Texas. The company offers a wide range of services and products in line with assisting clients in their home purchases. The company's new location is on Stanton Street in El Paso.

Josh Turner, a representative for the company says, "We are pleased to be opening this new El Paso location. We have big hopes of helping those in and around El Paso through the process of purchasing their home and offer a wide range of resources that can help to make this happen."

To complement the new office location, the company states that they have also partnered with Prodigy Lending in an effort to offer even more resources for their clients. Turner states that this collaboration will enable them to help more clients with their needs and offer solutions for many who would otherwise find it difficult to purchase a home.

"We feel led to help everyone that we can," Turner says. "Opening a new location in El Paso was just the beginning. This new partnership will help us to help others in the process and gives us much more of an advantage when it comes to financial tools and resources for those looking at buying a home."

The El Paso mortgage lender recently announced other location openings as well, in Dallas, San Antonio and various other locations around the state. Turner says that their new offices will enable them to assist clients on more of a local level and says that it will help clients who would otherwise not be able to get to them because their offices may have been too far away. He says that these new locations are ideal for those living anywhere in the state as they can be accessed relatively quickly from anywhere.

Turner says that the process for buying a home can be long and confusing. Those who have never been through the process may not be aware of the resources that are currently available to them. He states that there are a number of government programs that are available for clients and the company is pleased to offer assistance in this process for those who need it. He states that anyone who has questions or would like more information can visit the company on their official website. Information is offered about the company in general as well as each of their locations, with directions to each office.

Turner continues that those who have never gone through this process may be confused as to where they should begin. He says that one of the reasons for their new locations is so that they can assist clients from start to finish, without worries from the client about getting to an office that may be hours away.

The real estate market in El Paso is currently filled with available homes. Turner states that the goal of the company is to help clients in choosing the one that best fits their needs. He adds that they offer solutions that are tailored for each client, working with them on their credit, budget and other resources to help them to get into their dream homes.

Those who are interested in learning more can do so on the official website of the mortgage broker El Paso. Turner states that anyone who has questions or needs assistance can also contact the company directly through either phone or email to schedule a consultation. He states that the consultation gives the company the opportunity to learn more about their client's needs and to help them to better understand the programs and resources to which they may qualify. The company states that they are pleased to now be offering this assistance in El Paso and continues to add that the company also has plans to open additional locations throughout Texas in the very near future for those living in other areas of the state.

Source: <http://www.pressadvantage.com/story/25197-the-texas-mortgage-pros-has-a-new-location-in-el-paso>