WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. -South Florida law firm Steinger, Iscoe & Greene is proud to announce their partnership with news station WFLX Fox 29 in the production of South Florida Weekend. The project produces guides to weekly events, entertainment, contests and other happenings in the Palm Beaches and the surrounding areas.

The goal of South Florida Weekend is to “provide you with the latest and greatest in our region including fun events, food, drinks, arts, music, and everything in between,” according to the official Facebook page.

Michael Steinger, founding partner of Steinger, Iscoe & Greene, says the firm is always looking for new ways to get involved in the local community, and the South Florida Weekend project is the perfect way to do it.

“Community involvement is a core tenet of Steinger, Iscoe & Greene,” Steinger says. “Though we are heavily involved in our local community through representing victims of personal injury, we also enjoy helping people find new and exciting events and activities to enjoy --- which also helps bolster our local economy.”
