Ubud, Bali based Blooming Lotus Yoga, a leading yoga teacher training center, is delighted to announce the launch of the 2020 Bali based Yoga Teacher Training (YTT) Courses. They will soon also offer a 500-hour teacher training course for those who wish to undertake the additional 300 hours of their advanced training.

The upcoming Blooming Lotus yoga teacher training in Bali is conveniently scheduled in April and August, 2020. This should suit the schedules of the school's eager students as well as those who wish to make the most of the peace and tranquility that can be found in their exotic surroundings.

Angela, speaking on behalf of Blooming Lotus Yoga, says, "The Blooming Lotus Yoga Retreat in Bali is an oasis of peace and tranquility, and it is one of the highest-rated schools for those who wish to attend our classes and retreats while on holiday. Our yoga teacher training is firmly rooted in the classical yoga tradition and covers all aspects of the field, with five days off so our students can enjoy their time in paradise in order to learn and experience the bliss of Bali."

Priced at just over $4,000, USD, not including travel, the Blooming Lotus Yoga course offers one of the most affordable ways to gain yoga teacher certification. The School's Yoga Alliance accredited programs allow their students to teach yoga worldwide. The course not only teaches the fundamentals of yoga asana, but it also focuses on hatha and vinyasa flow and features an exploration into the yin and restorative styles. The course also includes the art of teaching: an extensive teaching practicum that will enable their students to teach skillfully and compassionately through verbal and non-verbal cues, among many other skills.

Students come from around the world to attend their teacher training, with online TripAdvisor ratings for their yoga teacher training confirming the school's top marks. Earlier this year, Maria K. from Vancouver, Canada attended their 200-hour training. In her review, she said, "I'm not even sure how to describe my experience with words. I have been lucky enough to attend both the 7-day retreat and the full YTT at Blooming Lotus. The training is heavily based on tradition and spirituality, which is exactly what I was looking for to further my own practice. The teachers are amazing beings, each with so much unique insight to offer, who truly do live and breathe yoga."
