

Sherri Shepherd Wigs Available at House of Beauty World

January 13, 2020

Television personality and actress Sherri Shepherd was recently revealed to be the singer under the penguin mask on the American reality TV show and singing competition, The Masked Singer.

The show just finished its second season, with 16 celebrity contestants including singer Chris Daughtry and actress Raven-Symone. Sherri Shepherd entered the competition in week 3, losing her face-off against the Fox, who ultimately won, and then being safe to stay on the episode after a performance of "Work It" by Fifth Harmony. She left the set and revealed her identity after her next performance in episode 5, when she sang "All About that Bass."

As a former member of The View, she told reporters that she knew she'd have a hard time masking her identity from fellow View host Jenny McCarthy, since they are very close and know each other extremely well. In addition to wearing a full-body costume that concealed her figure and covered her face with a detailed penguin mask, Sherri Shepherd avoided her signature moves, such as salsa, and did her best dancing in styles she never does as herself to try to throw her friend and colleague off the scent. Unfortunately, she was unable to change her walk enough to fool everyone entirely, and was voted off the show and had her identity revealed on an episode in November.

When not dressing as a penguin to compete on national reality TV singing competitions or chatting about current events on The View, Sherri Shepherd promotes a line of wigs called Sherri Shepherd Wigs. These wigs are made from a specially developed synthetic hair known as LUXHAIR Keralon Plus which has been designed to be the exact thickness and weight as natural human hair. It's also treated with a keratin conditioning treatment to give the wigs a soft, silky texture like healthy human hair. In total, Sherri Shepherd Wigs has 12 wigs in their collection, including long "Goddess Curls" and a cute bob, which are available at beauty supply store House of Beauty World.
