

SeboCalm Releases Facial Moisturizer for Sensitive Skin on Amazon

January 10, 2020

SeboCalm, based in Or Yehuda, Israel, has announced that they have released the SeboCalm Redness Relief Facial Moisturizer for Sensitive Skin on Amazon. This unique face moisturizer is a mattifying vegan hypoallergenic soothing anti itch cream for sensitive, oily and combination facial or neck skin. It has been designed to be an extremely calming moisturizer, particularly for oily, combination, and normal to dry face skin. It has also been found to minimize the symptoms of acne, seborrheic dermatitis, and rosacea.

SeboCalm was established back in 1990 when two pharmacists who owned a pharmacy decided to develop products for people with irritated, sensitive, and red skin. Over time, the company was able to develop a broad range of cosmetic products for various skin conditions. SeboCalm products are always manufactured under strict laboratory conditions, using cutting edge scientific knowledge and research. The SeboCalm Facial Moisturizer, just like the other line of products from SeboCalm, underwent stringent manufacturing processes and has been sensitivity and hypoallergenic tested.

Clinicaly Pro

SeboCalm Moisturize
be effective in reducin
and flaky skin in a clini
published in the inte Dermatologic

Symptom level:

