

Denver Video Production Company Receives High Praise From New Customer

January 14, 2020

Lightworkers Republic | Denver Video Production Company is reaching out to the wider community to share a recent review they received from a satisfied client. The video production company is based in Denver, Colorado and, since their founding in 2015, has worked with many clients, including some of the largest names in the industry.

In the 5-Star review in question, which was posted on Lightworkers Republic | Denver Video Production Company's Google profile, Mark Maunder says, "Defiant, Inc. worked with Lightworkers to produce a documentary short called 'Open.' Andrew did an amazing job making it happen and was a pleasure to work with. The short premiered in front of 1600 people and was also shown at a red carpet event in St Louis and was very well received. Andrew also produced our corporate culture video and did a great job. Thank you Andrew!"

Andrew Rodriguez, CEO of Lightworkers Republic | Denver Video Production Company, says, "In the beginning, Lightworkers was just a seedling of an idea planted in the back of our minds. With a dose of light, our video production services sprouted and grew, forming a core group of passionate creatives who were ready and willing to welcome other creators, doers, and storytellers into the fold. The momentum was infectious, and thus the republic was born. We continuously invite artists, filmmakers, animators, and writers into our world to deliver the most unique and all encompassing video production service within the Denver metro area."

Since their humble beginnings in 2015, Lightworkers Republic | Denver Video Production Company has found their groove and evolved into a full service video production company whose growth is highlighted by the collaborative efforts the company has accomplished with some of the largest names in the industry. These include, but are not limited to The Chainsmokers, Lyft, EDM.com, The Big Wonderful, Lululemon, and Dena Amy. Rodriguez says, "We capture memorable moments for businesses, festivals, marketers, music industry players, and influencers. As a company, we are inspired by variety, especially when it's possible to produce engaging video for a major music industry players like EDM.com, then turn around and do the same for a rideshare company like Lyft. The moments we've captured aim to serve a rapidly changing list of clientele, yet our focus has always remained the same."

The work done by Lightworkers Republic | Denver Video Production Company has earned them a lot of praise from their clients within the creative industry. On Google, the company has a rating of 5 out of 5 Stars. In his review, Joshua Mann says, "Sean and the team at Lightworkers Republic are fantastic. They are consummate professionals who pay attention to every detail. Their expertise and ability to execute are unmatched. The extremely high quality of their work and the amount of creativity displayed is only surpassed by their very reasonable and competitive prices. I would highly recommend Lightworkers Republic to anybody who needs the job done right the first time. I look forward to the opportunity to work with them again on one of our next projects.”

The video production company also maintains their high ratings on Bark.com, which connects professionals with clients. Rachel Anderson says in her review, “Lightworkers Republic is my go-to video shop. They've produced a number of different pieces for me over the last couple of years and I am always impressed by the quality of work as well as their flexibility. Andrew in particular is wonderful to work with—he's always fast to respond and I feel like, with minimal direction, his team can turn out a product that's even better than I'd imagined. It's always a relief to work with Lightworkers as I know my projects will be in good hands. Couldn't recommend them enough!”
