January 15, 2020

The Net Lender (TNL), a financial aid provider based out of California, recently opened a new location in Ohio in order to bring their services to local residents. The company allows customers across the United States to obtain easy financial aid using their car titles as collateral. More information about the company can be found at the following link: <https://www.thenetlender.com/ohio-car-title-loans>.

The Net Lender says, “What with so many jobs being sent overseas, the economy in Ohio has seen a significant hit. Recent statistics actually show a steady downward trend, and its effects can be seen in all Ohio households. Given how bad the economy is, you might have already been affected. Perhaps your main water line broke and is flooding your home, and you need to get immediate cash to pay for the fixtures. Perhaps you’ve been hit with a medical emergency and need to pay for hospital bills but don’t have enough money on hand to cover the expenses. In such situations, it is always good to have a reliable option to reach out to.”

TNL continues, “If you’re looking for financial aid in Ohio and you’re running out of options, you might want to consider getting obtaining financial aid using your car title. We can help you get the cash you need to cover all your emergencies and personal needs with incredible ease. In fact, with The Net Lender, you can have money on hand on the same day you apply, and you can get approved for your financial aid in less than 15 minutes.” More information about The Net Lender’s Ohio location can be found at the following link: Auto Title Loan Columbus Ohio.

According to the Net Lender, getting financial aid using a car title in Ohio is a relatively simple process. Those who want to get financial aid simply need to own and possess the title to their car (as well prove that they are the sole owner of the vehicle). Depending on the vehicle’s resale market value, they’ll be able to get financial aid that can range anywhere from a few thousand dollars up to $30,000 and more. While obtaining financial aid from banks requires a good credit history, no such thing is needed with The Net Lender. The only thing that matters is the vehicle’s value, which means that even those with poor credit score can still be eligible to get their loan.

The Net Lender has established themselves as a reputable company that provides reliable services. In a review found on the company’s website, Jeremiah Lutes says that the Net Lender restored his faith in financial aid companies. His review says, “I am the head of the household, and I know of the pressure one can get from bills and discrepancies in their credit. I used the car I bought before I got married, and it turned out to be such a lifesaver for me. I took out about half of what I was offered and wasn’t pressured any further. Thank you, and hopefully my car will be eligible again if need be.”

Meanwhile, on TrustPilot, where The Net Lender has a rating of 4 out of 5 Stars, Andy Jones says, “If you need financial aid using car titles, call this place and only this place. I was in desperate need of cash—I had some financial problems that I won't get into. I called around a few places and was not getting much help, so I decided to call The Net Lender. I had a professional staff person explain the process and got financial aid the same day. I highly recommend this company.”
