

ActiveGear is Inspiring People of All Ages to Get In Shape - Their Brand New Exercise Mat Is Now Available for Purchase

January 15, 2020

The best exercise mat on the market, perfect for any home exercise, comes in two sizes and is available for purchase now.

ActiveGear, a health and wellness brand, announced today that they have just added a large exercise mat to their product line. It is available for purchase in both the smaller 6 x 4 foot size as well as in the larger 8 x 6 foot size. Both are available for purchase on Amazon or directly through the website. More colors and sizes are in production and will be announced in the coming months.

The technical specs of the mat are impressive all on their own before even addressing its multifunctional uses.

Both mats are 7mm ( $\frac{1}{4}$  inch) thick providing cushioning and support that other brands just don't offer. This means that it's durable enough for weight training and cardio workouts, and will soften the impact on knees and ankles. It also means it's soft enough to be used as extra padding under yoga mats, can be used for ab workouts, or as a stretching mat.

The unique dot matrix provides a non-slip, ultra-grip design that avoids slipping on the mat, or the mat sliding across the floor. Use it on carpet, concrete, tile, or outside - the mat grips to any surface giving fitness lovers complete control over when and where to work out.

The ActiveGear mat is designed using eco-friendly, non-toxic materials. Many of the cheaper mats on the market aren't produced with the user's health in mind. ActiveGear products are always designed with safety as the first priority. When rolling during an MMA class or stretching post HIIT workout, the skin should not be absorbing toxins from low-quality materials other brands use.

The mat comes rolled up in a carrying bag with two Velcro straps for easy storage and easy transport. It can be left out on the floor of the home gym, kept stored rolled upright in a closet, or folded flat under the bed.

With every purchase, ActiveGear includes a free jump rope to start working out right away. Whether following along to a workout video, following a training program, or just needing to destress, this mat arrives ready for use.

A home gym is the key to health. This mat is an investment in fitness and health that will reward the efforts for years to come. It can be used on its own, or combined with free weights, kettlebells, cardio equipment, or a workout buddy for an enhanced experience. The mat has been tear tested to guarantee a great workout every time. ActiveGear focuses on the quality of all their products, so their customers can focus on the quality of their workouts.
