

New Lifting Straps And Wrist Wraps Combo Pack Launched

December 07, 2015

December 07, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Rip Toned Fitness, a business based in Las Vegas, NV, has announced they have now launched the lifting straps wrist wraps combo pack. The company is known for their various popular fitness accessories, and two of the top favorites are the lifting straps and wrist wraps. The pack is already receiving positive reviews.

Mark Pasay from Rip Toned Fitness says: "Many of our customers who purchase the lifting straps told us they also were interested in wrist wraps as well and we realized these would make a perfect combo set. This is why we decided to make life easier for our customers by releasing the combo pack. We have also made them available in various colors. We're so happy to see it is already being well-received."

The lifting straps have been top rated best sellers on the Amazon marketplace. Around 1,000 individual reviews have been left on the straps, resulting in a 4.8 star rating. Their wrist wraps, which are equally top end, have received similar reviews. By combining the two, the company aims to make workouts safer and more efficient.

Encouraged by a customer video review on their bundle, they decided to go a step further as well. Hence, they have now also released the combo pack in different colors. Colors include red, orange, blue, yellow, green, camo gray, camo pink and more. This is again something that has been greatly appreciated, as fitness is as much about fashion as anything else.

The positive reviews for the new pack are already flooding in. "I am in love with these Wrist Wraps + Lifting Straps Bundle! The Rip Toned bundle help me a lot in the gym. They encourage you to use proper form by concentrating on the specific muscle group being worked. This in turn makes your work out more effective," says one review.

"These wrist wraps + lifting straps help prevent fatigue and injury and can protect old injuries. My favorite part is that they help you lift heavier weights more comfortably. These wrist wraps + lifting straps are by far high quality, well made and extremely durable. I noticed a huge difference since using them working out. I feel less strain in my wrists and I am so glad I have these now! I have been bringing these with me every time I go to the gym. I would recommend these wrist wraps + Lifting Straps Bundle to everyone who exercises especially if you do weight lifting or cross fit."

People can purchase this combo pack on the Rip Toned Shopify site as well. Alternatively, the Amazon marketplace also remains available. All purchases, therefore, can be completed securely.
