

Hot Water Heater Repair Referral Company in Santa Cruz CA Announces Plumber Services

December 14, 2015

December 14, 2015 -
It's often cheaper to fix a hot water boiler than it is to replace it with a new one. But finding a reliable plumber, who can do the right job, within budget, can be a hit and miss affair. A water heater repair referral company in Santa Cruz called Astriden has announced that they now provide referrals for experienced plumber services as well as the well-known quality water heater repair service they are known for facilitating.

Owner Dan Astriden says he will refer plumbers who will give the real cost of the job to the customer and provide an experienced plumber that can be relied on to deal with any problem. Dan stated, ?The customers in need of plumbing and heating services in Santa Cruz know that the plumbers my company refers are going to give them the right information, and at a fair price?.

Dan continued, ?Luckily in the Santa Cruz area, Astriden provides information on local professional, reliable, licensed, bonded and insured plumbers so customers may feel assured they are being treated fairly. Satisfied customers are encouraged to review the services provided, for the benefit of other customers, and to write a recommendation on the Astriden website. Dan explained, ?Poor workmen will soon be exposed - and can be avoided.?

The website offers advice on how much a new boiler should cost, weighed up against the average cost of repair. In the Santa Cruz area a new hot water boiler repair should cost around $200-$300, and a new 40 gallon tank with a 6 year warranty should cost around $1200-$1500

Potential customers are also given a list of questions to ask before hiring the services of a plumber. Customers should know how much the job will cost, including taxes. How long the job will take. Whether the company is licensed, bonded and insured. Customers should also know if a warranty is provided. They should also know what brand of parts will be supplied and what the manufacturers warranties are. Don't forget the labor costs or if a permit is required.

A professional plumber referred by Astriden will be happy to answer all of the customers questions.

Astriden prides themselves on using their extensive knowledge of contractors to match them with customers in need of assistance. And after the job has been completed they evaluate the contractor to ensure the customer's needs have been met.

Dan says ?Peace of mind for the client and good professional recommendations for contractors make it a win/win for both sides.?

For anyone in need of water heater repair, or hot water heater replacement Astriden's contractors cover Capitola, Santa Cruz, Scotts Valley, Watsonville, Aptos, Boulder Creek, Davenport, La Selva Beach, Live Oak, and Soquel.

Further information can be found on the website: http://contractor.astriden.com/plumber/hot-water-heater-replacement-cost-santa-cruz.html or by emailing media@astriden.com

###

For more information about Astriden, contact the company here:AstridenDan Astridenmedia@astriden.com

Astriden

Astriden is the market leader in providing consumers with critical information about contractor services and related products.

Website: http://contractor.astriden.com/plumber/hot-water-heater-replacement-cost-santa-cruz.html

Email: media@astriden.com