Heber City, UT - The mattress pads are hypoallergenic, waterproof, vinyl free, cotton terry cover - keeping your mattress dry and clean.

The Heart Zipper is an online blog started by a marvellous lady named Britney. The blog has started to post holiday gift guides as to suit the growing demands from shoppers who normally tend to get very wary trying to find the right holiday present. With Christmas fast approaching, gift shopping can get a lot more chaotic for shoppers.

The holiday gift guide from the Heart Zipper is shown to ease the burden on the shoppers who don?t know which particular item to choose, by identifying and compiling a list of worthy products that would make a perfect gift. One of these products listed is the terry cotton cover mattress protector from SKY Bedding. The user-friendly product is shown to have a lot of benefits for the user, they not only look and feel good but they appear to be beneficial to the health of the user.

The mattress protector is known to offer added protection to the mattress from liquids because it is 100% waterproof. The mattress protector is also shown vinyl free and can keep your mattress dry and clean. Britney had this to say about the mattress protector on the Heart Zipper, ?It doesn't make you feel uncomfortable or interrupt your sleep like some other styles of mattress protectors we have tried in the past. I also really like that this mattress protector works great with a child that wets the bed. It has done a great job protecting my son's bed every time we have had the unforeseen circumstance of a wet bed. We have had all the other blankets and everything else wet but this mattress protector has done a great job protecting the mattress.?

The mattress protector is also hypoallergenic, which keeps the unwanted allergens out. ?It never seems to me like a sheet is enough to be able to protect a mattress. I really like to use mattress protectors in between the sheets and the mattress. I feel like in my household it makes a difference in keeping the mattress much cleaner. I really like this mattress protector because it is not vinyl!! I have used so many vinyl ones in the past and they never seem to last long, said Britney in the review of the smooth mattress protector on the Heart Zipper holiday gift guide.

Britney in her recommendation of the smooth mattress protector urges her followers to add this product to their holiday gift list.

The SKY Bedding mattress protector is currently available on Amazon, and has a lifetime warranty.
