Slappy The Ventriloquist Doll Shatters Sales Record

January 19, 2016

January 19, 2016 -
Celebrity Dummies, a business in Tampa, FL, is excited to announce record breaking sales for their celebrity ventriloquist dolls during the fourth quarter of 2015. This explosion of sales is mainly due to the sales of 'Slappy' the ventriloquist doll, which is featured in the 'new' Goosebumps children's movie.

Rob Kaplan from Celebrity Dummies says: "Slappy is by far our bestselling doll, so much so in fact, that we have him to thank for our record breaking sales. We are so happy to see that he is so incredibly popular and we can't wait to get some pictures and videos of our customers having fun playing with and entertaining others with their Slappy dummy."

The Slappy ventriloquist doll is just one of several featured dolls in the Celebrity Ventriloquist Doll line up. The Celebrity Doll lineup includes, Mortimer Snerd, Danny O'Day, Charlie McCarthy, Howdy Doody, W. C. Fields, Lester, Bozo, Groucho Marx and, of course, Slappy. All dolls come with a free eBook on how to become a ventriloquist. This gives detailed instructions on how to actually 'throw your voice' like a professional ventriloquist.

Slappy is a spooky and sporty dummy in a prim-and-grim outfit. He comes with glow in the dark, ice green eyes. Famous for his starring role in Goosebumps, a Scholastic children's story, he quickly rose to his own stardom. The doll has been very positively received by many purchasers. "Fantastic doll," says Christy K. "Delivered in perfect shape to us last Christmas. Our son, a huge Goosebumps fan, absolutely loved opening it and playing with it (and still does everyday), and it was easy for our 7 year old to manipulate the mouth."

The doll has been designed to be easy to use. The head can be held with just one hand, while using the other hand to pull the string. The string operates Slappy's mouth. The doll also comes with its own easy storage tote bag. This makes it easy to store it and to transport it. Slappy has been the life of many parties already. At 30 inches in length, he is immediately ready to be used. The doll also comes with a full satisfaction guarantee.
