

Benefits Of Jamaican Black Castor Oil Revealed

February 03, 2016

February 03, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Leven Rose, a natural beauty business in Colorado Springs, CO, has revealed the potential benefits of Jamaican Black Castor Oil. This oil is said to be a potent natural healer and has various advantages for those who are seeking natural beauty. However, the oil is relatively unknown, with little mainstream attention. Leven Rose is one of the few companies that currently sells this oil on the domestic market. The oil can be purchased through <http://www.levenrose.com/products/jamaican-black-castor-oil-1-oz>.

Leven Rose's Courtney Olson says: "Jamaican Black Castor Oil seems to be one of Mother Nature's best kept secrets. It has so many potential advantages for both health and beauty, yet few people have even heard of it, let alone given it a try. We are proud to stock this particular oil and to be able to introduce more people to natural health for their skin and hair care needs."

The possible benefits of this particular oil have been reasonably well-documented. Essentially, it has been found that this oil may help in causing scars to fade, thickening hair (including eyebrows), minimizing redness from acne, working as a skin anti-aging treatment, softening hair, and reducing inflammation on the joints.

However, Leven Rose warns that not all black Jamaican castor oils are created equally. Rather, in order to really enjoy the benefits, the oil has to be 100% organic and should be free from any and all additives, natural or chemical. All Leven Rose products have been designed to fit that bill, as can be seen on <http://www.levenrose.com/collections/all>.

"Mother Nature only works in our favor if we treat her properly," adds Courtney Olson. "Once you start adding ingredients to natural products, and particularly synthetic or chemical ingredients, they completely lose all their benefits. It may be cheaper and easier to dilute the oil, but it would leave our customers with a product that doesn't work. We're proud to stand behind our natural guarantee which has earned our marketplace trust."

Those who are interested in the oil are also encouraged to follow Leven Rose on Instagram at <http://www.instagram.com/LevenRoseBeauty>, where they can also share how to incorporate natural oils into a daily routine and how to benefit from them.
